

Jim is a Scottish boogie piano man who has left his northern homeland to play music in southern Spain. Hes utterly hopeless at DIY, so this is not your typical new life abroad book where the author rebuilds a ruin with his bare hands. Jims hands are only useful only for playing piano and the odd bit of sensual massage.... Jim came to Spain to say Yes to every chance to play music of every kind. If youve ever wondered what its like playing piano with an opera singer in prison, or being stalked by a washboard player, nows your chance to find out. Add a violin-playing Elvis, a stretch Shirley Bassey, a jazz funeral, the most confusing Christmas carol service in Spain, and a teetotal Scottish ceilidh. Then theres Jims hilarious account of possibly the most unromantic Valentines night in history. Apart from music, Jims other main interests are making chutney and collecting spatulas! But the real hero of this book is Jims rescue cat Sammy, who has turned his house into a Tom & Jerry film. Stuff happens to the boogiemán. This really is quite unlike any other book youve ever read about Spain, music, cats and spatulas.
