White, black, grey, silver and shades of brown are considered neutral in any arena. In gardening, green also functions as a neutral. Neutral colors will have a tendency to tone down the other colors in a bed and can be used as a buffer between two plants that might otherwise clash. Bring your yard to life with colorful details such as furniture, pots, and plantings. The problem is that each color cancels the next one out. Your garden will resemble the guy who wears plaids, stripes and prints together. (Remember: he's .

Garden Color. Shaded areas can appear brighter by using light-colored plants. Full sun garden areas can handle brightly colored flowers. White flowers are in a class by themselves. Warm colors include red, orange and yellow.

Take a walk around the garden or the entire neighborhood when starting your garden color project. This will help you see the entire picture. Note the colors of. Taking a disciplined approach lets you harmonize your plant palette without stifling diversity. (Tulips, Nemesia strumosa, and chrysanthemum foliage provide the rest of the color.)
