

Book 1 of 2. Watch for the sequel, Beyond 4/20. Out of desperation, Chelsea enters a platonic "dating" contract with John Keller, millionaire tycoon and much older man. After losing her funding for school, Chelsea needs the money for tuition to finish her final year, or else have to return home and face the man who nearly destroyed her heart. Uninterested in a committed relationship, and believing he has found the perfect protege to help groom for the business world, John finds their "arrangement" ideal. Chelsea will serve as a smoke screen of sorts as she attends social functions associated with his business. As the contract stipulates, they begin and end on 4/19 "no exceptions. After a year together, though, and as deepening feelings complicate what is supposed to be a business relationship, will walking away really be as easy as signing her name to a contract? Note from the author: In this story you will encounter a young believer who has true faith but not so much trust. As much as Chelsea loves and believes in God, her journey to be truly close to Him takes time and develops on into the sequel, Beyond 4/20. For John, a cynical man who turned from his faith in pursuit of "more", Chelsea's character and integrity becomes a beacon home. Watch for John and Chelsea's story as it continues in Beyond 4/20. In this sequel, their deepening relationships with God and with one another will be what gives them strength to endure life's most difficult challenges. I've had reviews about this not being Christian fiction. Please bear with our characters as they struggle and learn along the way. I try to capture people where they are and follow their journey to deep and abiding faith. We all begin imperfect "but have the same goal of becoming like Jesus.
