

Here are Stanley Booths acclaimed writings about the South and the music that emanates from it. Rythm Oil- you dont have to know how to spell rhythm to have it in your body and soul- is a potion sold on Beale Street in Memphis. The home of Sun Records, B.B. King, Elvis Presley, Howling Wolf, and Jerry Lee Lewis, Memphis is also the home of fantastic stores and broke-down dreams. As Booth makes his way from Memphis to the Mississippi Delta to the depths of the Georgia woods exploring the sounds, the music, and the culture of the American South, he has produced some of the most gracefully written, thoughtful, and thought-stirring musings on the characters- the famous and the forgotten, the infamous and the unknown- who command the kingdom or drift through the shadowland of the Souths rich-chorded patrimony (Nick Tosches, Los Angeles Times). Stanley Booths work has appeared in Esquire, Rolling Stone, Playboy, and many other publications. He lives on the Georgia coast south of Savannah.
